A WEARY TASK BEGUN

Start of the Great Go-as-You-Please Contest.

IMMENSE CROWD PRESENT.

Pat Farrell and Arthur Upham Are Almost Sure to Fight.

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

The local six-day-go-as-you-please pedestrian contest started. The crowd of spectators was large. There was great excitement at the start. Arrangements have almost been completed for a battle between Arthur Upham and Pat Farrell. The grounds of the local Players' League Club are nearly local N. L. Club to-day.

the big 142-hour race started. The field of men was a very large one, and the crowd be opened much sooner than expected. The desire being to see the commencement of what promises to be a terrific struggle.

Of course the crowd was split up into facdifficult to tell what contestant was the strongest favorite at the start. Herty, Moore and Guerrero had many admirers, and the three pedestrians were in excellent condition. ARE OUT TO WIN.

Herty and Moore particularly are out to use every possible effort to win. They have made the most complete arrangements for support and attention during the week, and the sammay be said of Noremac. The interior of Herty's cot is an interesting study. Medistored in the little place, together with a cooking stove, ice chest and bath tub. His principal attendant is "Reddy" Mason. The veteran Jimmy Taylor has charge of Hegelman, Connors and Cartwright, and Noremae is attended to by his wife. John Hughes, the Leper, arrived yesterday morning, and he started. He is also attended to by his wife. The prominent competitors are all provided with attendants, however. When the long list of starters responded to their numbers on the track and stood in pairs, they presented a very pretty appearance. The favorites of the race looked well, indeed. The crowd was extremely anxious to hear the word "go," and the impatience was manifested by a little emonstration of feeling.
When Manager Davis ascended the stand to When Manager Davis ascended the stand to start the 22 competitors, there were about 2,500 people in the building, the reserved seats being well filled with fashionable natrons. At the word "Go" Guerrero and Cartwright jumped off with the lead and they made the pace very lively indeed. The audience grew wild at the scene, which seemed to prompt the Mexican to increased speed. Cartwright, however, put on a terrific burst of speed and led to the first mile amild cheers.

A CLOSE RACE.

Gnerrero was close up and Howarth came next. The balance, with the exception of Day and Fox, tallied one after the other, all close up. Cartwright continued to cut out the pace, and the spectators urged him on. Herty, Moore and Noremac took things comparatively easy, evidently having an eye to the length of the journey ahead of them. easy, evidently having an eye to the length of the journey ahead of them.

In the second mile Guerrero began to per-spire freely and gained on Cartwright. The Mexican was first to score the second mile, closely followed by Cartwright and Moore. The pace was still kept up and old Norman Taylor just kept pegging away speedier than the average. Concors began very well and showed himself to be almost as speedy as any of them. Guerrero led at the third mile, leading Howarth by a half lap and Hegelman by two laps, Cartwright was next at the third mile but was slewing down considerably. Golder, was sick at the stomach thus early in the race but was running well. At 1 o'clock the pace was still lively and exciting.

THE FIRST TEN MILES. Guererro reached the ten-mile mark in I hour and 4 minutes, three laps ahead of Howarth. Not a man on the track ceased running during the hour, and the pace was steadily a merry one. Guererro was evidently a great favorite, for he was cheered frequently. The crowd did for he was cheered frequently. The crowd did not seem inclined to break up in the least, al-though it was nearing 2 o'clock. Gibbons, the Southside puddler, surprised everybody by his placky running. Horan remarked to him: "Stop that speed or I'll run you down." "I can't step it now," said Gibbons. At 1:55 o'clock the score stood:

He is entered pretty well in all age stakes, and will have an abundance of racing before the season closes. 1 still think he is fast for his inches, and nothing would afford me more pleasure than to put him in a little sweepstakes with Salvator, Longstreet, Spokane and Proctor Knott for company, $2,500 or $5,000 each, some reputable racing association to add a few hundreds or thousands, by add a few hundreds or thousands, by way of increasing the value of the same. Such a race at, say a mile and a quarter, weight for age, would draw all New York and Brooklyn to see it. I would not ask for an especially prepared track with only my jockey posted as to its neculiarities, nor would I seek to prevent good jockeys from riding in the race. Neither would I expect the judges to award me the race if some other horse beat me a neck.

"A little sweepstakes like the one I suggest could be run over the new Monmouth track at the midsummer meeting without proving hurtful to fall engagements. The owners of the record breakers I have indicated may consider the matter favorably, and a big race be the result. An International Shooting Match. BERLIN. April 6.-A match has been arranged between American and German rifleAN ENORMOUS CROWD,

The Brotherhood Exhibition Game at 8 Louis Draws Immensely. St. Louis, April 6.-The greatest crowd that ever witnessed an exhibition ball game, in St. Louis, saw the Chicago and Cleveland Brotherhood Clubs at Brotherhood Park to-day. There were over 20,000 in attendance, and of this number about one-half climbed the fences or burst through the gates. The grounds were well through the gates. The grounds were well able to accommodate the crowd, but the trouble was at the gates, where the ticket sellers were unable to handle the number who had rathered there. They had not anticipated such a crowd and were not equipped to handle it. There were, however, 10,000 actual paid admissions. In strange contrast to the crowd at Brotherhood Park was that which attended Sportsman's Park, where not more than 500 persons witnessed the defeat of the St. Louis Browns by the Omahas, the score being Omahas, 19: Browns, 12. At Brotherhood Park the score was Chicagos, 7: Clerelands, 5.

The Brotherhood teams are occupying private boxes at the Grand Opera House to night, where the "Pearl of Pekin" is being given. They have also engagements for every night this week, and Wednesday evening they are to be tendered a banquet and reception at Koorner's Garden. Fred Pfeffer, second baseman of the Chicagos, arrived from Hot Springs today.

LOOKS LIKE A GO.

Upham and Farrell Likely to Fight at New Orleans fer $2,500. Arrangements for the battle between Pat Farrell, of this city, and Arthur Upham have almost been completed. Yesterday John Quinn, Farrell's backer, received a letter from the secretary of the New Orleans Young Men's Gymnastic Club stating definitely that the club would give $1,-500 for a battle between the two pugilists 500 for a battle between the two pugilists named. The conditions, however, demand that each man fight at 158 pounds or below it and that they weigh at the ring side.

Farrell's party are not very well satisfied with the last named condition. He wants to weigh 12 hours before the fight and this request was forwarded to the secretary of the club last evening. The difficulty is very small and it will doubless be overcome. The winner is to receive $1.250 and the ioser $250. Upham also agrees to bet Farrell $1,000 on the result. When arrangements are definitely made Farrell will go to Philadelphia and to train under the guidance of Fogarty.

NEW CLUB GOSSIP.

The New Grounds Nearly Ready and the Players Doing Well. Manager Hanlon confidently expects that the grounds of the new club will be ready within a few days. Mayor McCallin from now on will devote most of his attention to the work of completion, and will hurry everybody who has completion, and will hurry everybody who has charge of the work. When completed the grounds will doubtless be among the finest in the country. The grand stand will be what enthusiastic baseball people call a "daisy."

The players of the team are not by any means idle, although their grounds are not ready. They are working hard on the East Liberty grounds. So far Manager Hanlon is amply satisfied with the performance of his new shortstop, Corcoran. The young man promises to be one of the finest shorstops in the country. Galvin is also surprising his colleagues with the rapid way in which he is getting into his best form, and Staley is now down to weight. Altogether the team will be in excellent condition when the new grounds are ready.

A REGATTA ON DECORATION DAY.

Local Amateur Oarsmen Arrange for the Spring Races. The local Amateur Oarsmen's Association met in the Columbia bonthouse yesterday after-noon and decided to hold the regatta on Decoration Day. The races will begin promptly at 9 o'clock. The course this year will be from the o'clock. The course this year will be from the Sixth street bridge to the Point, in the Allegheny river, though in previous years they rowed from the Pt. Wayne bridge.

There will be two four-oar races for the seniors and juniors, a double and single scull, and a special race for Sayder and Zetwald. The races are open to all amateurs, whether they live in this neighborhood or not. At the meeting vesterday, 15 new members were admitted. The membership is now 89, but the managers hope to increase it to 600. This body is a branch of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, and they are represented at all

Will Be a Desperate Fight.

John Quinn received a letter from Paddy McBride vesterday in which the latter says that the battle between him and Lynch will likely be a desperate one. Lynch will have five or six pounds the best of weight and McBride says that Lynch is "about the toughest man in the country." The winner will be matched against Jimmy Larkins, and the winner of that battle will go against McCarthy.

Dempsey Heard From. Jack Fogarty writes to a friend in this city stating that Dempsey is coming East, but he declines to fight to a finish any more, except with The Marine. Dempsey agrees to fight Fogarty a limited number of rounds for a substantial purse, and there may be a contest between these old opponents. Should they fight ten rounds it is hardly likely that Fogarty would have much chance to defeat Dempsey.

Wants to Fight Nikirk. Jim McCov called at this office Saturda night, and stated that he is willing to fight Harry Nikirk for a purse of $100. He wants to fight to a finish with bard gloves. Negotia-tions are also going on for a battle between Carney, of the Sixth ward, and Harry Nikirk.

Peculiar Features of the Political Contest at Alliance.

cratic and Republican primaries are likely to be defeated by the Prohibitionists. The other news of three States is full of interest.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 ALLIANCE, O., April 6 .- To-morrow this little city will be the scene of one of the fiercest political contests ever seen in this State, noted for its lively battles of this nature. There are three candidates in the field for Mayor-the regular Democratic and Republican nominees, and the present incumbent, who is running on an independent Prohibition ticket, with more than a fair chance of success.

For several years past local prohibition has been on the statute books here, and enforced with more or less vigor. The local Republican organization has always favored prohibition, but at the primaries a week ago the candidate of this element, Mayor Chapman, who was seeking a renomination, was defeated by 17 votes in a total poll of nearly 1,000. The liberal, or anti-prohibition element, was also successful in the Democratic caucus, nomnating a candidate of that persuasion by a inating a candidate of that persuasion by a vote of more than two to one. In securing both these nominations, however, the antis seem to have over-reached themselves. As a result, the Prohibitionists of both parties united, held a large and enthusiastic mass convention and placed Mayor Chapman in the field as their nominee. Chapman is supported by Morgan, the great manufacturer and leading Republican of the place, and by both of the local newspapers. ing Republican of the place, and by both of the local newspapers.

The issue is clearly drawn, and on the result will depend the fate of local prohibition, not only here but throughout the State. Alliance is the largest town which has made anything like an extensive trial of cold water, and the three-cornered fight to-day will be watched with great interest.

SHOT BY A TRAMP:

Freight Conductor Murdered by Kulghts of the Road.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 LIMA, April 6.—As east-bound freight train No. 98, on the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad, pulled into the siding near this city this afternoon Conductor Gardner J. Tuckey saw six tramps getting into a box car. He ordered them to leave, but they refused. and he got inside the car to eject them. One of the tramps fired a revolver, and a flagman hearing the noise came to the conductor's assistance. The tramps jumped from the car, followed by the conductor. One of the gang produced a revolver, which Tuckey wrenched out of his hands, when two others then caught him, holding each of his arms so that he was powerless to defend himself when another one of them placed a 38-caliber revolver at the conductor's left side and fired, the ball taking effect a little below the heart. The tramps then started to run north on Main street, Tuckey bravely starting in pursuit, but soon fell, exhausted from loss of blood. Tuckey was carried into a drug store, where he was examined by physicians, and his wound declared fatal.

The police captured four of the men after a chase of several miles. They gave their names as Lewis Duebret, Charles Sagerman, William Meck and William Thomas, the latter, who says he lives at Springfield, O., being identified by the conductor as his assailant. of the tramps fired a revolver, and a flagman

A STUBBORN FIGHT ON.

Minors Are I Confident of Ultimate Victory.

IRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH, I PUNXSUTAWNEY, April 6.-The miners have evidently centered upon this place as the point at which their battle is to be won or lost. They say the strike is by no means off, as has been claimed by some, but, on the con-trary, it is botter than ever. The rumors that trary, it is botter than ever. The rumors that were spread through the Clearfield region and other points that the strike is about over, has hurt them considerably, as assistance began to fall off at once.

Erickson's Enribquake Prediction Causing Great Alarm Among His Followers in Oakland-Many People Have Already Left.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SAN FRANCISCO, April 6 .- As the day draws near for the fulfillment of the prophecy that Oakland, San Francisco Chicago and Milwaukee are to be swallowed up by earthquake the excitement among Erickson's followers in Oakland increases. The police have broken up all public meetings, but the cranks assemble in private houses and made converts the last week. Dealers in real estate and second-hand furniture report that cranks have left many orders with them for the disposal of property for cash. To-morrow is the date fixed by Erickson for the beginning of the exodus to the mountains, but about 40 Oaklanders anticipated the removal by two days, as they quietly departed yesterday for St. Helena, the center of wine making in Napa county, which is over a thousand feet above sea level and about 70 miles from this city. They have rented rooms and a cottage and are prepared to remain throughout the month and await the doom of Oakland.

About a score of families have established a camp in the foothills back of Oakland, where they have raised tents, and propose to hold a series of camp meetings. From the preparations noted in Oakland, it is likely that several hundred people will flock to this camp. Even in San Francisco many credulous people are alarmed, and country resorts will profits by their fears. At Santa Rosa several of the faithful have joined Mrs. Woodworth, the original leader, who is responsible for Erickson's prophecy. She is a shrewd woman, however, and proposes to start East early this week, and will not have to face her dupes.

Nervous excitement over the predicted creases. The police have broken early this week, and wilt not have to face her dupes.

Nervous excitement over the predicted calamity has proved too much for several women in Oakland, who have been sent to the insane asylum. Early this morning, on Washington street, in Oakland, a young and good looking woman, well dressed and with long, brown hair flowing down her back, ran wildly down the street with her arms outstretched, as she loudly screamed: "I'm coming, Good Lord, I'm coming. Wait, only wait for me, Oh, take me to Him. Take me to the Lord to be saved." The police took her to the station, where she continued to rave wildly.

Delegates were present from Buffalo, Jersey City, New York, Hoboken and many places in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Hobeken and many places in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

There were two secret meetings during the day and a public meeting was held in the Opera House to-night. A number of prominent citizens delivered addresses. Grand Master Sargent of the Firemen's Brotherhood, Grand Conductor Howard of the Conductors' Brotherhood, Grand Master Wilkinson of the Brakesmen's Brotherhood, the well-known "SchandyMaguire" and other prominent railroad men also spoke. All declared that federation would be in the interest of harmony and that the death note of strikes on railroads had been sounded. The object is federation under one head of all the different bodies, each to retain its own organization.

CHICAGO, April 6,-A champion storyteller is in jail here in the person of the woman Mamie Starr, who cooked the corn that poisoned to death Mr. and Mrs. Newland, by whom she was employed. The prisoner's narrative that she had a sister who was a perfect image of her was startling in its ingenious detail, but her latest explanation, the most sensational yet advanced, is that she bought the rough on rats at the drug store intending to kill herself, and afterwards threw it away without once opening the box. When Chief of Police Marsh and his assistants locked the girl up last night she had positively denied all connection with the poisoning. More singular than this she had denied that she was ever at the Anchorage Mission, the institution from which the Newland family secured her as a servant.

IT WAS HER TWIN SISTER.

She also denied ever being at the residence of the Newlands, and maintained, in spite of the fact that a dozen persons identified her, that her sister must have been the girl who prepared the fatal dish. A circumstance that greatly strengthened the denials occurred when she was taken before Dr. Rogers, the drucgist who sold the poison. Dr. Rogers looked her over carefully in all possible lights, and formed his conclusion most deliberately. Finally he said: "She is not the girl who bought the rough on rats. I am just as sure of that fact as I am of the fact that I am alive. The girl who came in for that poison looked very cool and collected, and I concluded as soon as I saw her that it would be perfectly safe to trust her with the stuff. She said she wanted it to kill rats with, and remarked that she would have to be very careful to keep her little brother from getting hold of it. She was older than this girl and better dressed than this girl."

This evening the girl was brought up from the cell where she had been confined and taken into the presence of Chief Marsh, Inspector Hunt, Captain Laughlin and other detectives.

STARTLING CONTRADICTIONS. "Mamie," commenced the Chief, "Why did you tell me you were not in that drug store?" "Surely, I never said anything of the kind," said the girl, and her eyes rolled wildly, "Of course I was in the drug store. I went there and bought the box of poison. I paid 15 cents for it and 16 cents for some gum. I had just a and bought the box of poison. I paid in cents for it and 16 cents for some gum. I had just a quarter."

"Why, you told me last night that you had never been in Hyde Park in your life, that you had never seen the Newlands, that you were never in the Anchorage Mission, and a dozen other things."

"Impossible: you must have misunderstood me. Of course I was in Hyde Park. I'll tell you just how it was. I was very despondent, and did not want to live any longer; you know I have often been despondent, and once tried to kill myself in Chicago two years ago. So I went to the store for the poison, and thought I would take it while the family were asleep that night. I hid the stuff while I cooked supper. I cooked the corn and I am sure there could not have been any poison in it, but it was wrong somehow, for I took a taste of it myself and was dreadfully sick afterwards. When all the family began to get sick I was scared and thought the best thing I could do would be to get out. I took the box of poison and rolled it up in my apron and then went away. I was very much excited at the time, but I remember that I threw both apron and threw the package over a fence. I am sure i don't know just where it was, but probably I could find it if I had half a chance."

SHE WANTS HER UMBRELLA. "This is an altogether different story the one you told yesterday," remarked In spector Hunt.

"Oh, no," responded the girl, and the same "Oh, no," responded the girl, and the same crazy gleam was in her eyes, "that is just exactly what I said yesterday. By the way, do you know I can't find my umbrella anywhere. I wonder where it is."

It was an open question with the officers after the examination whether the woman's apparent insanity was feigned or real. "I never heard of a case similar to this one." said Chief Marsh. "I never saw a prisoner so self-possessed and cool when under arrest for a serious crime, I do not know whether the members of the family were poisoned by rough on rats or by some other substance in the corn. I am sure that the girl had no possible motive to poison them, and that she had never seen them before last Friday morning. All the rest is in the dark."

It is an absolute fact that many suffer, and indeed too many are daily hoodwinked by patent medicine and quack treatment, and they give way to foolish advice and leave a regular give way to foolish advice and leave a regular schooled and reputable physician to resort to all kinds of patent nostrums in vain to find health and strength, when they could really be assured that there is more nourishment in one bottle of Klein's Silver Age than in a carload of the stuff they call "invigorators." It is, too, a fact not to be passed by, the indorsement of well-known physicians, who cheerfully indorse this excellent and pure stimulant, Hospital superintendents, who are regularly using these goods, say, "It is the best stimulant we can cet, and has its desired effect." All druggists keep it. Each bottle contains a full standard quart, and is sold at $1.50 each. Send for complete catalogue and price list of all kinds of liquors to MAX KLEIN.
